

Raising Resilient Resistance

Walking the Walk Justice Summit & Camp
August 12-16, 2017, Camp de Benneville Pines

Now more than any time in recent history, we must come together -- to strengthen ourselves and our collective ability to make change. We must develop our skills, strengthen our congregations and build our communities. We must raise resilient resistance.

Walking the Walk is the largest UU justice summit, bringing together justice-seeking UUs for a rich long weekend of dynamic worship, workshops, practical skills, networking and community building! Join fellow Unitarian Universalists in Raising Resilient Resistance!

The UU Justice Ministry of California wants all congregations represented.

Three or more registrations from the same congregation receive a generous 10% discount!

"The prophetic liberal church is the church in which all members share in the common responsibility to attempt to foresee the consequences of human behavior (both individual and institutional) with the intention of making history in place of merely being pushed around by it. Only through the prophetism of all believers can we together foresee doom and mend our common ways." -James Luther Adams

Let us come together and leave better prepared to make history instead of merely being pushed around by it. Join us.

Walking the Walk 2017 will take place at Camp de Benneville Pines from August 12th to 16th, and promises to be the best yet! UU Justice Arizona (UUJAZ) is cosponsoring with UU Justice Ministry of California (UJMC), and the UU Service Committee (UUSC) and UURISE (UU Refuge and Immigrant Services and Education) are taking part.

The cost of four days in the mountains - including lodging, food, fun and all of the amazing programming - is only $340, with additional assistance available and discounts for ministers, seminarians and congregational groups of three or more. Register here.

There will be workshops on everything from climate change to the new sanctuary movement, housing and homelessness to anti-racism and interfaith work, plus intergenerational programming. We are at a unique time in history and as leaders in the Unitarian Universalist tradition we have a unique role to play. This is our opportunity to connect with other UU justice makers!

We will gather beginning at 10am on Saturday, August 12th. From the moment you arrive, you will experience beloved community as we provide training on grassroots, relationship based organizing, issue updates, raising resilient resistance on environmental justice, immigrant justice, rising inequality and more. We will share heart opening worship and community building exercises, and still have free time to reflect, refresh and look to the needs of our bodies and spirits. We will take the time to ground ourselves in the beauty around us and the many spiritual practices that make us whole. We will gather in farewell at 10am on Wednesday, August 16th, refreshed and ready to carry resilient resistance back to our congregations.

Please contact beverly@uujmca.org if you have any more questions about Walking the Walk 2017. We would love to have you join us this year, and please be sure to encourage your fellow congregants to participate in this amazing opportunity! Hope to see you in August!
