Meet with leadership from other UU congregations at the President's Luncheon hosted Friday at noon. Regional lead, Rev. Carlton Smith, will present UUA updates and hold open discussions with board presidents and leaders.

The weekend is packed with meaningful keynote topics, an assortment of workshops, youth con activities, music, worship, meals and more!

THEME: Promoting Justice: Amplifying Justice at the Intersections of Race, Class and Environment

Plenary speaker, Hop Hopkins has been a catalyst, thought leader and social change strategist for over 25 years. He is the former Director of Organizational Transformation for the Sierra Club.

As a special bonus for in-person attendees, long-time UU favorites, Emma's Revolution, the musical duo of Pat Humphries and Sandy O, will perform on Saturday night. It's sure to be an evening of original social justice ballads and uplifting folk music.

Click here to "Learn More", as there is just too much to list! Besides the impact of many specialized workshops, the power of two plenary speakers, the magic of incredible musical performances and the opportunity to join UUC Ventura's choir on Sunday morning, the impact of such an area-wide gathering cannot be measured.

Pricing for both in-person and virtual attendance is very reasonable and financial assistance is available. $85 to $110 in-person pricing or $60 to $85 virtual pricing.

Hosted by UU Church of Ventura, and supported by Chalice UU Fellowship of the Conejo Valley, the UU welcome mat is out! Rooming in the home of a fellow UU makes the trip to Ventura quite affordable.

Home Hospitality: Contact Michael Akseven (makseven@yahoo.com 805-208-0344 text best) or Susan Franzblau (susan.franzblau@gmail.com 805-276-6359) for information and to sign up for home stays. Pricing as low as zero!
